Royal Classic Mills Cotton Contract Farming
Project on Cotton Quality and Yield Enhancement Program.

STUDIES ON THE EFFECT OF AGRINFOTECH PRODUCTS IN DRIP IRRIGATED COTTON

An Observational trial.

Royal Classic (Classic Polo) is promoting the cotton contract farming extensively all over Tamil Nadu. In continuation of their scheme, we are also interested in evaluating high tech nutritional as well plant protection products for the permanent crop improvement program especially for supporting cotton contract farming. In this connection, we are undertaking trials with high quality inputs manufactured by an USA based company named as "AgrilInfoTech, Inc.". Trials were laid out during last August 2004 in our mill site located at Vagarai, Palani.

Among the products viz., Humic acid, seaweed-aminos, microboost, and biological NPK liquid fertilizers (nutritional products) are found to be effective in influencing the quality as well as yield of cotton. We are also tested AgrilInfoTech's botanical fungicides FC 100 and botanical insecticides IC 100 in the farmers plots at Kavalappatty Village on verticillium and sucking insects problems in cotton. Results are very encouraging and it was found to be the best for cost effective pest control program in cotton. Moreover these two products are herbal based and it won't leave any poisonous residues in the plant system.

Our observational trial in the farmer's holdings was recorded about two quintals of more yields in AgrilInfoTech products treated plots when compared to the control plots.

Based on the consistent results obtained from AgrilInfoTech products, we included their products in our cotton cultivation package. We also recommend strongly our service providers to promote AgrilInfoTech products for achieving the goal of high quality and yield of cotton.
